

AP Review Schedule 2021 - 2022

Date	Topic	In-Class Activity	Homework The AMSCO review assignments should be approached judiciously ("smartly, with judgement"). If there are sections of the reading you know you understand, skim it to make sure, and then move on to sections/concepts on which you are weaker. If you have already covered a unit over Spring Break, then go ahead. Make sure to create a list of content for which you want clarification in class. You are probably not the only one, so don't be shy!

Thurs. 05/05	AP Exam 8 am Lane Tech	Please arrive in the auditorium by 7:30 am with several blue or black ink pens and at least three sharpened #2 pencils and a non-smart watch. Leave your phone and jacket in your locker. You will be directed to your testing room from the auditorium. Be on time! Testing begins promptly at 8 am. Your test should take around 2 ½ - 3 hours including break(s), distribution, and collection of materials. You may bring a snack bar and a bottle of water.	After the exam you may go home. You are not required to attend other classes on the day of the exam (you will be "school functioned") Study for Latin America Map Exam
05/06	APHG Final? Recovery	We will vote (4/22) on whether you want to take the final on Friday (5/04) when you might be best prepared or wait until after the weekend. Otherwise... Unit 6 and 7 corrections	The course final will be weighted 3x a unit exam (this translates to about 12% of your grade). Corrections for the final exam will NOT be offered but the exam will be curved. Show me what you've learned!
05/09	APHG Final? Recovery	If the class votes to have the final on Monday. Or... Unit 6 and 7 corrections	Study for Latin America Map Exam
05/10	Map Exam	Latin America Map Exam Unit 6 and 7 corrections	Unit 6 FRQ retake (after school)
05/11	Recovery	Unit 6 and 7 corrections	Unit 7 FRQ retake (after school)
05/12 05/13	Year-end Project	Folded map project. Students will research and report back on an area that sits at opposite coordinates from their home. This work will be done in-class. Rubric and due dates will follow.	You should focus on your other classes for the rest of the school year. The folded map project is intended to be done in class. Make sure to use this time productively.
